THE UNITED STATES ATTORNEY CHARGES:

INTRODUCTION

At all times relevant to this superseding information,
unless otherwise indicated:

The Colombo Family Enterprise

1. The members and associates of the Colombo organized crime family of La Cosa Nostra (the "Colombo family") constituted an "enterprise," as that term is defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1959(b)(2) and 1961(4), that is, a group of individuals associated in fact. The Colombo family engaged in, and its activities affected, interstate and foreign commerce. The Colombo family was an organized criminal group that operated in the Eastern District of New York and elsewhere.

2. The Colombo family operated through groups of individuals headed by "captains," who were also referred to as "skippers," "caporegimes" and "capodecinas." These groups, which were referred to as "crews," "regimes" and "decinas," consisted of "made" members of the Colombo family, who were referred to as "soldiers," "friends of ours," "good fellows" and "buttons," and associates of the Colombo family.

3. Each captain was responsible for supervising the criminal activities of his crew and providing crew members and associates with support and protection. In return, the captain received a share of the earnings of each of the crew's members and associates.

4. Above the captains were the three highest-ranking members of the Colombo family. The head of the Colombo family was known as the "boss." He was assisted by an "underboss" and a counselor, who was known as the "consigliere." When a member of the administration was unable to fulfill his criminal responsibilities because of incarceration, ill health or other reason, a member of the Colombo family was often appointed to that position in an acting capacity.

5. The boss, underboss and consigliere of the Colombo family, who were sometimes referred to collectively as the "administration," supervised, supported, protected and disciplined the captains, soldiers and associates and regularly received reports regarding the activities of the members and associates of the Colombo family. In return for their supervision and protection, the boss, underboss and consigliere received part of the illegal earnings of each crew.

6. The Colombo family was part of a nationwide criminal organization known by various names, including the "mafia" and "La Cosa Nostra," which operated through entities known as "families." The ruling body of this nationwide organization was known as the "commission," the members of which have at various times included the bosses of the five New York City-based families, to wit: the Bonanno, Colombo, Gambino, Genovese and Luchese organized crime families of La Cosa Nostra ("LCN").

7. From time to time, the Colombo family would propose a list of associates to be "made," that is, to become members of the Colombo family. The list would be circulated to the other families based in New York City. Upon becoming "made," each member would take an oath of "omerta," vowing never to reveal any information about the Colombo family, its members or associates.

The Purposes, Methods and Means of the Colombo Family Enterprise

8. The principal purpose of the enterprise was to generate money for its members and associates. This purpose was implemented by members and associates of the enterprise through various criminal activities affecting interstate and foreign commerce, including extortion, fraud, unlawful labor payments and illegal gambling. The members of the enterprise furthered its criminal activities by, among other methods and means, threatening physical violence and economic injury.

9. Members and associates of the Colombo family engaged in conduct designed to prevent government detection of their identities, their illegal activities, and the location of the proceeds of those activities.

10. Members and associates of the enterprise often coordinated criminal activity, such as extortion, with members and associates of other organized crime families, including the Bonanno, Gambino, Genovese and Luchese organized crime families of LCN.

The International Union of Operating Engineers

11. The International Union of Operating Engineers (the "Union"), with headquarters in Washington, D.C., had approximately 400,000 members in 170 local unions throughout the United States and Canada. The Union, which was affiliated with the AFL-CIO, represented, among others, operating engineers who worked as heavy equipment operators, mechanics and surveyors in the construction industry.

12. Local Union 14-14B of the Union ("Local 14") and Locals 15, 15A, 15B, 15C, 15D of the Union ("Local 15") were constituent locals of the Union. Local 14 and Local 15 represented operating engineers in Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island, New York, who performed work at various construction sites in the New York City area ("Job Sites").

13. Locals 14 and 15 each had benefit trust funds for its members. The Local 14 funds included the Operating Engineers Local 14 and 14B Annuity Fund, the Operating Engineers Local 14 and 14B Pension Fund and the Operating Engineers Local 14 and 14B Welfare Fund (the "Local 14 Plans"). The Local 15 funds included the Annuity Fund of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Unions 15, 15A, 15B, 15C, 15D, AFL-CIO; the Pension Fund of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Unions 15, 15A, 15B, 15C, 15D, AFL-CIO; the Welfare Fund of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Unions 15, 15A, 15B, 15C, 15D, AFL-CIO; and the Vacation Fund of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Unions 15, 15A, 15B, 15C, 15D, AFL-CIO (the "Local 15 Plans").
